

THE HOUSE OF HEROD

Only members of the family directly relating to our Bible study are listed. Each of the children of Herod the Great was by a different wife, except Archelaus and Herod Antipas, who had the same mother. Of the twelve people listed above, only Aristobulus is not mentioned in the New Testament. Salome is not named, but is mentioned in Matthew 14 and Mark 6 as “the daughter of Herodias.”

- indicates lineal relationships in the House of Herod
- - - - indicates marriage of Herod Antipas to Herodias, his niece
- indicates marriage of Herod Philip I to Herodias, his niece