

“PILATE”—This stone found in the Roman theater in Caesarea bears the Latin inscription meaning “Pontius Pilate, Prefect of Judea.” Archaeological findings such as this reveal the historical accuracy of the Bible.